

SMALL BUSINESS EXPO: BI-ANNUAL TRENDS REPORT

August 2018

INTRODUCTION

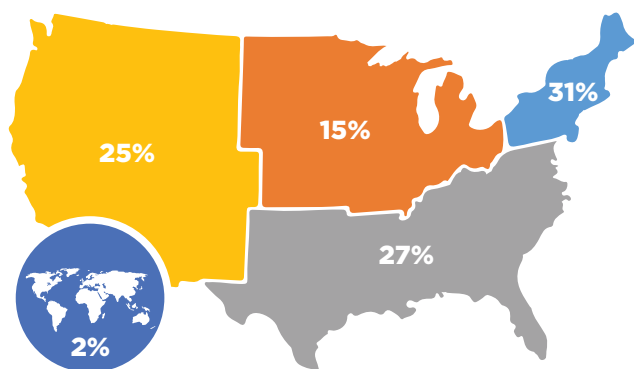

In today's digital-driven environment it's more important than ever for businesses to innovate in order to stay ahead. Today's consumer is savvy and has high expectations from the businesses they choose to interact with. Small businesses need to find a way to remain competitive in order to not be left behind, and it is imperative to stay up-to-date on the trends and challenges most impacting their bottom line. The latest Small Business Expo: Bi-Annual Trends Report surveyed over 400 small business owners spanning across several industries, providing quantitative and qualitative analysis of how entrepreneurs are faring within the current economic climate in the United States, and the current state of small businesses overall.

1. In which region is your company headquartered?

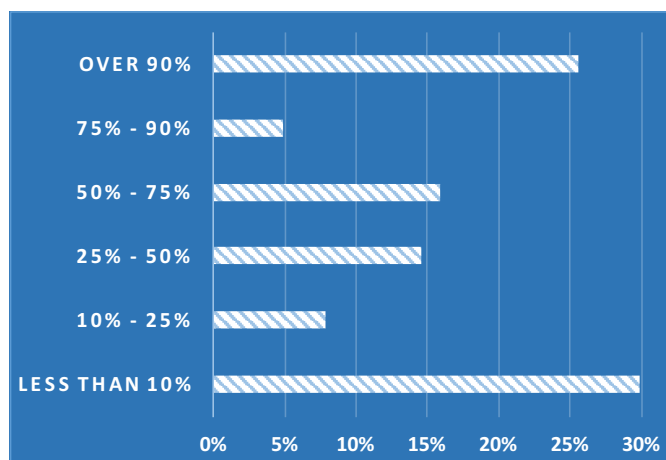

2. Do you agree that age is/has been a factor in the success of your business?

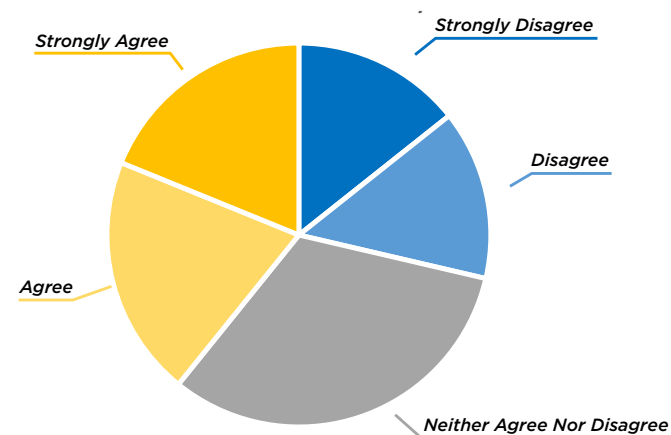

3. What kind of growth in gross revenues, if any, did you see in 2017 over 2016? What kind of growth in gross revenues, if any, do you anticipate in 2018 over 2017?

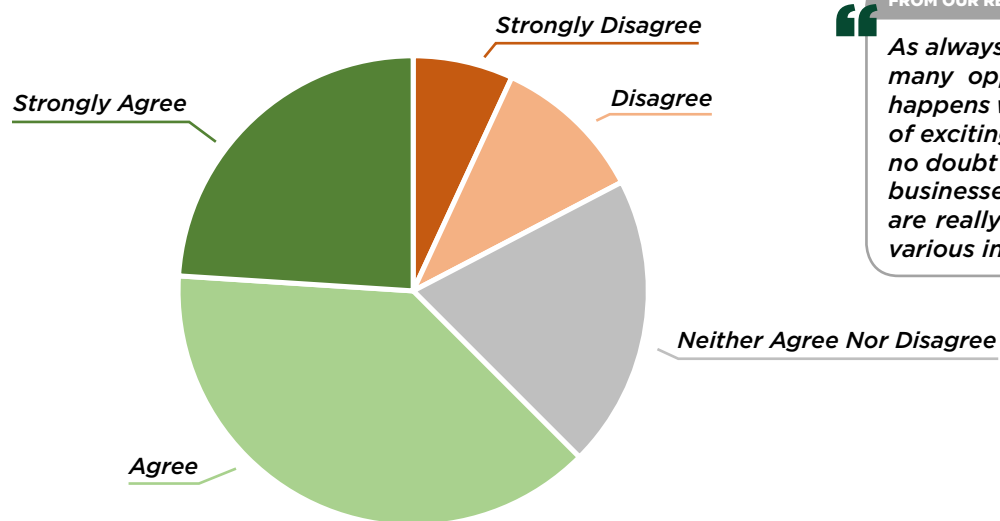

4. What percentage of your staff are female?

5. Do you agree that workplace diversity is an issue in your industry?

6. In the past year, my confidence in my business has grown and my overall outlook for the next year is positive.

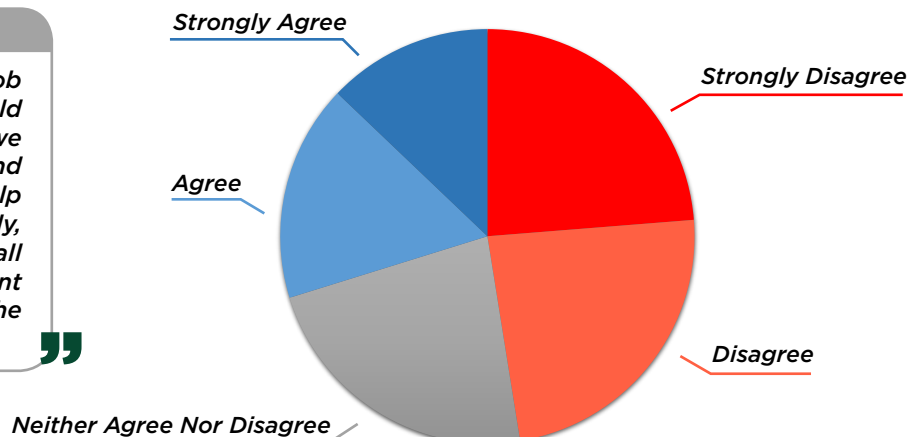

FROM OUR RESPONDENTS:

As always for those that look, there are many opportunities. No matter what happens with the economy we see a lot of exciting changes in the world. I have no doubt that there will be a lot of new businesses in the next few years that are really going to unseat the kings in various industries.

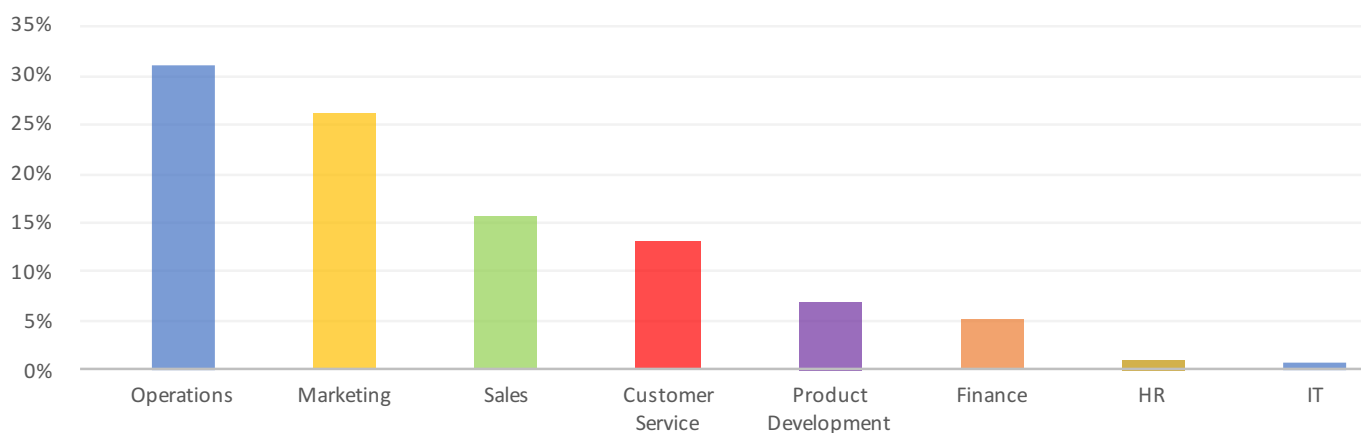

7. The current US Administration supports Small Business and is trying to help small businesses across the country grow & succeed.

FROM OUR RESPONDENTS:

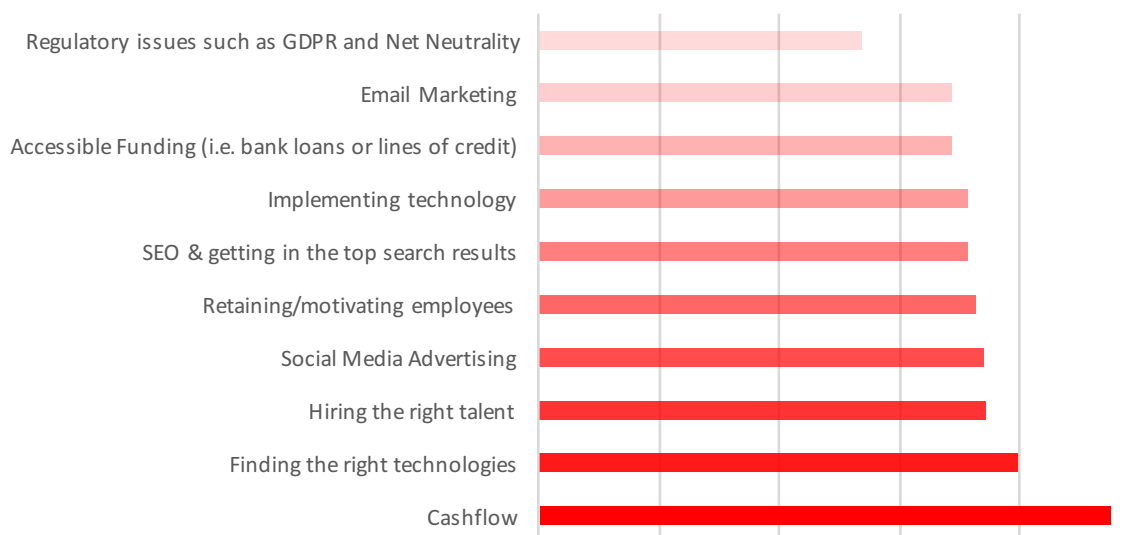

Small business is the backbone of job growth in the U.S. economy. It should be easier to start a business and we should do more to fund start-ups and provide the technical expertise to help them grow and succeed. Unfortunately, the big corporations drown out small businesses and support government policies that favor those already at the top.

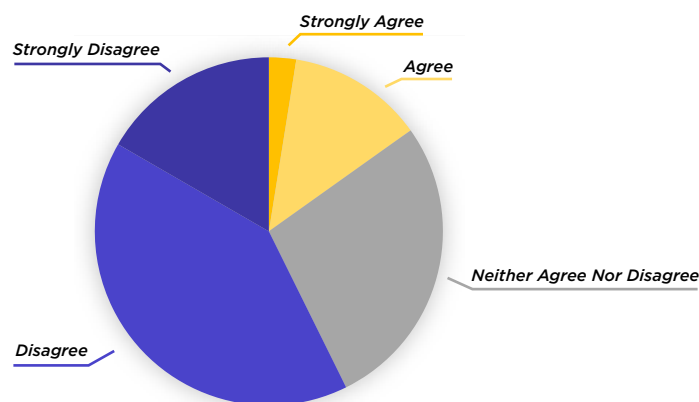

8. Which area of your business do you spend the most time on?

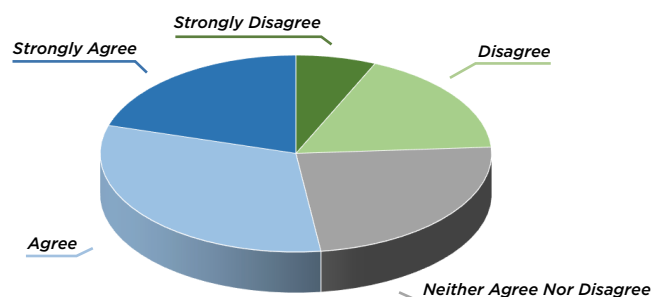

9. Please rate the below in accordance with how each impacts your current business activities, with 1 being least impactful and 10 being the most impactful.

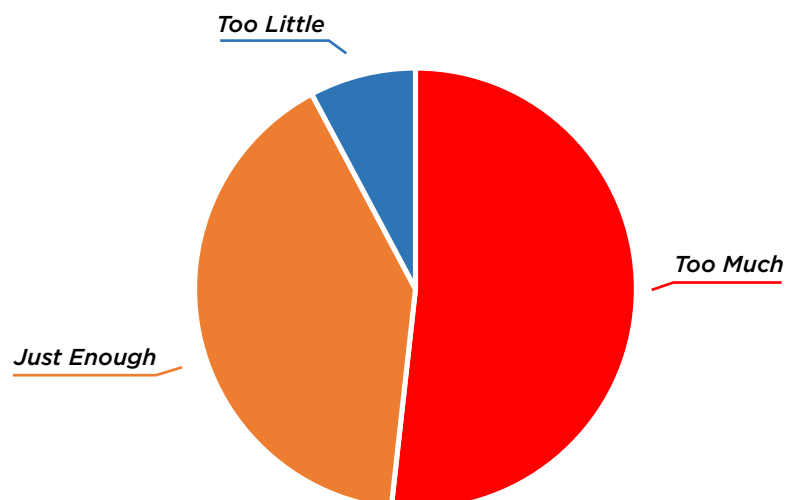

10. The US is currently experiencing a brick and mortar “retail apocalypse”.

11. The Supreme Court’s ruling that states can require online retailers to collect sales tax will negatively impact small business.

12. Do you feel there is too much, just enough, or too little government regulation of small business?

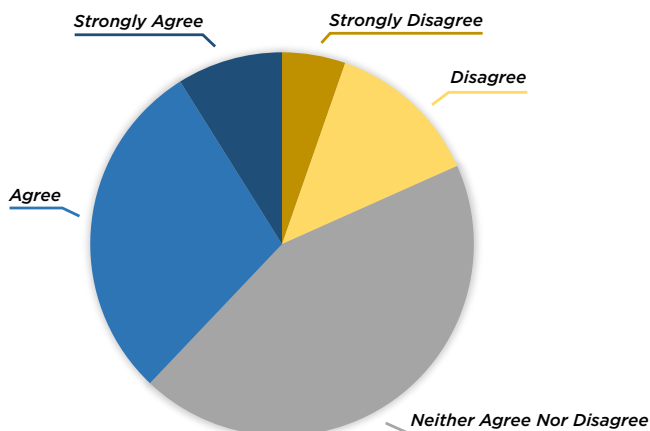

FROM OUR RESPONDENTS:

Excessive regulation makes it harder for small business to compete with larger businesses. Every extra step or tax, effects small business owners exponentially. In addition, larger companies can shift P&Ls through various channels that alter market prices making it harder to compete.

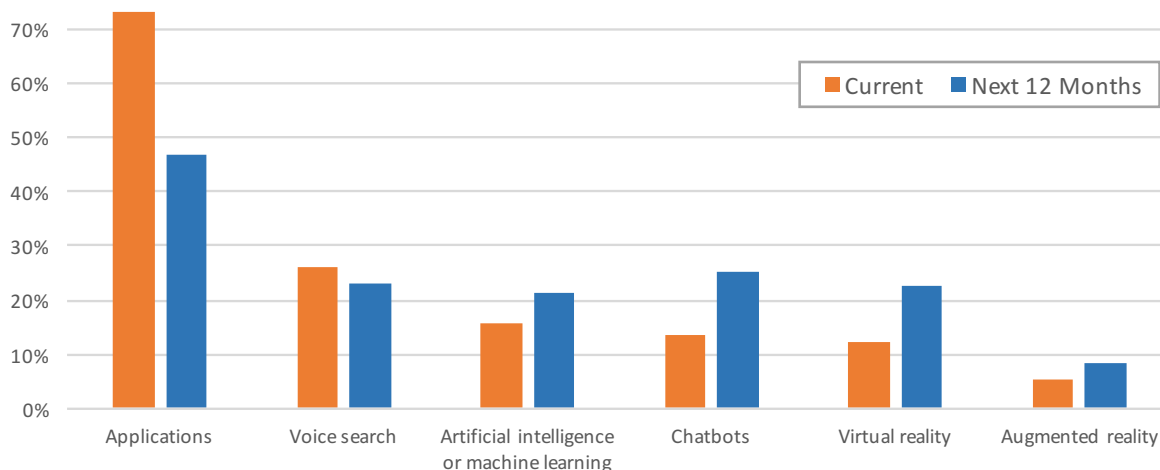

13. Do you agree that emerging technologies (such as AI, MI, Computer Vision) are beneficial to your business model?

FROM OUR RESPONDENTS:

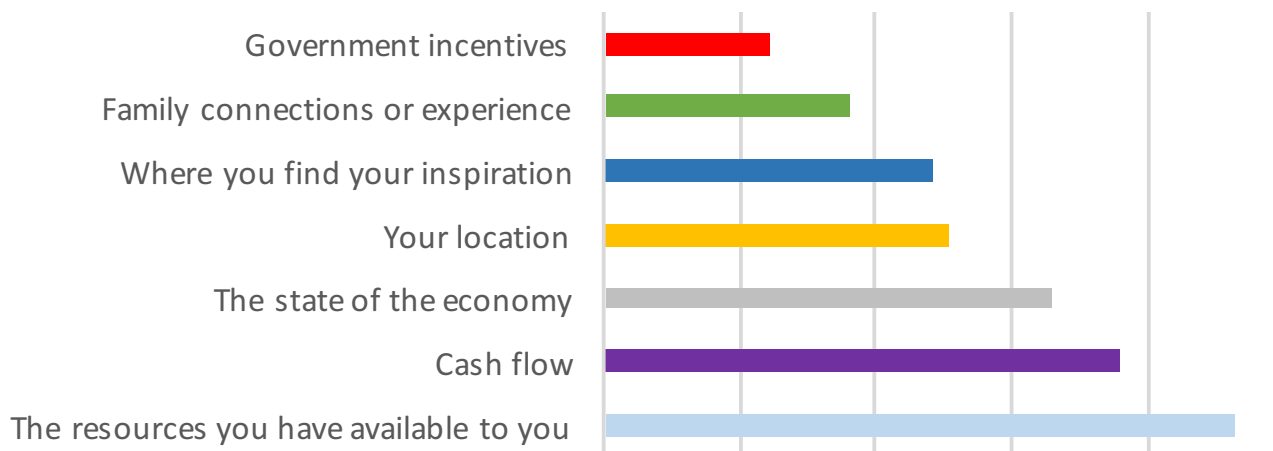

I think the best way that small businesses can thrive is to leverage social media to advertise products and services. People still want a 'hands-on' experience even if its a virtual experience via photos or video.

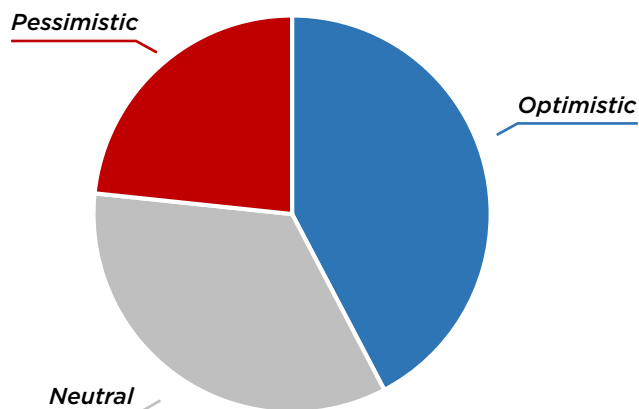

14. Which of the following technologies do you currently employ? Which of the following do you anticipate introducing in the next 12 months?

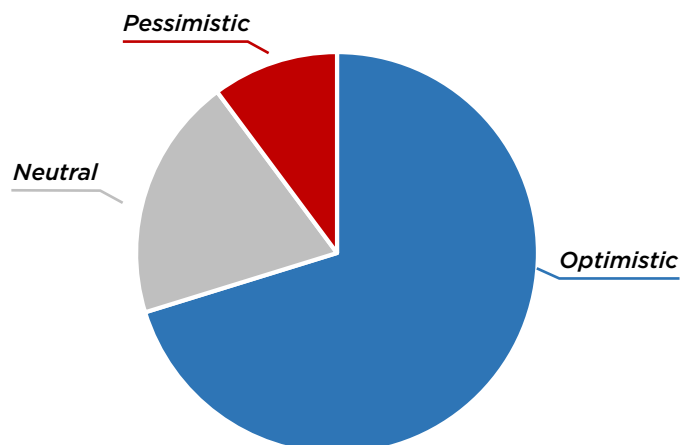

15. Which of the below do you consider to have been - or to still be - factors for success in your business?

16. Are you optimistic or pessimistic about the US economy in the next 12 months?

17. Are you optimistic or pessimistic about the economic future of your business in the next 12 months?

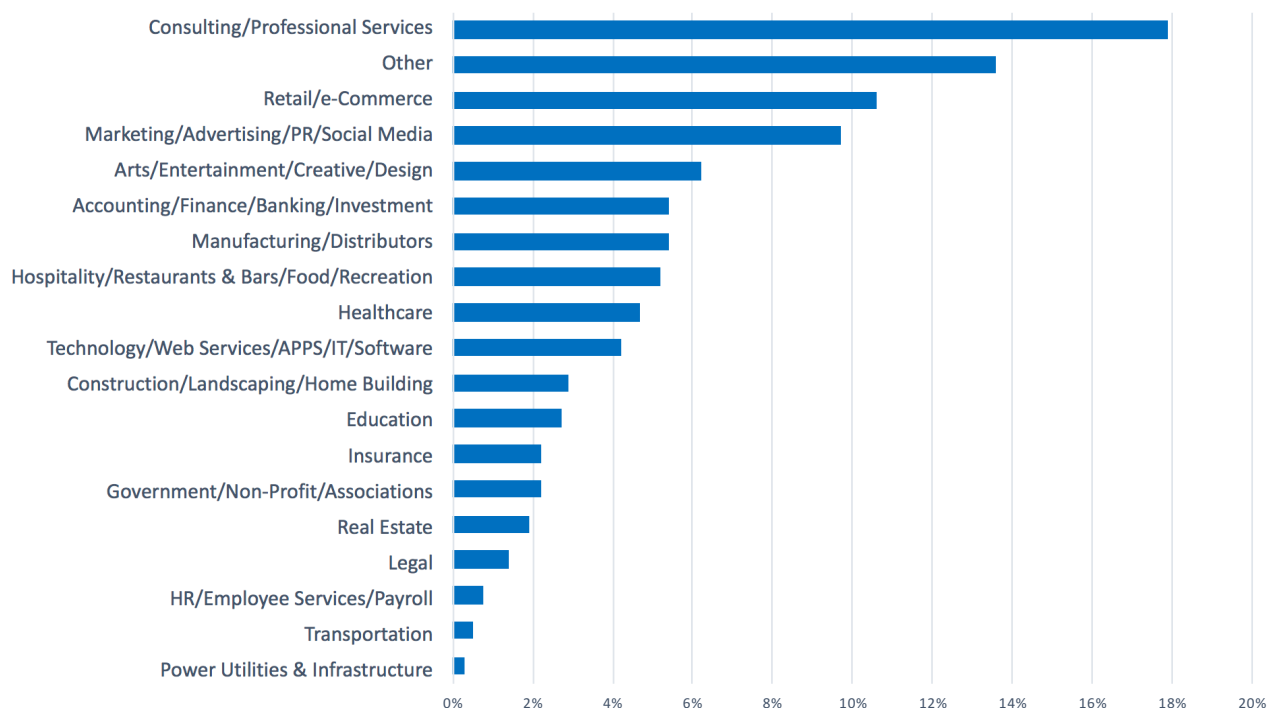

FROM OUR RESPONDENTS:

The current state of US businesses gives an opportunity to envision a larger vision of what one's business can contribute locally & globally. Change is inevitable. Think outside the box; look at what one has to offer the growth of our economy; make it all a teachable moment. In due time your talent will profit both you & your community.

18. In what industry would you categorize your business?
